Cedar Mountain News

By Christine Pace And Linda Young

Calendar Of Events

10 a.m.-1 p.m.: Cedar Mountain Baptist Church Bazaar.

Community Center Meeting

Oct. 11 will be our next to last Cedar Mountain Community Club meeting. Nominations will be accepted for new officers of the club and will be voted on at the November meeting.

Local Book From 1877 Still Available

For Cedar Mountain's 150th celebration, a special reprinting of a book written about travels in and around Cedar Mountain in the year 1877 was made available for purchase at the low cost of $3 per copy. Entitled "A Trip to Cloudland," it has proved to be a favorite of all who purchased one on Sept. 17. After several phone calls, I am happy to announce there are still copies available for purchase. All money collected goes to the Cedar Mountain Community Center.

If you would like a copy call Christine, and she will make a list and soon decide on a place to meet in order to deliver these issues. This issue is limited, so call (828) 885-2103 soon.

Brevard College Art Students Here

The Land of Waterfalls Art Gallery will host students of the Brevard College Art Department with an exhibit of student works from Oct. 1-30. A reception for the students will be held on Saturday, Oct. 8, from 1-4 p.m. Refreshments will be served and music will be provided by Dave Abell's Celtic Band. Everyone is invited to attend.

According to Anne Chapin, head of the college art department, visitors can expect very large sculptures, large and small paintings, photography, digital artwork and smaller sculptures to be on display. Anne said the college students work in a variety of sizes, media, and styles.

For many students, this is their first gallery exhibit. Others have been in many shows and won many awards locally and nationally.

This is another of the gallery's efforts to reach out to the art community for the public to see works perhaps not seen otherwise.

Land of Waterfalls Art Gallery is located in the log house beside the new Connettee Falls Park on U.S. 276. Read more at www.landofwaterfalls-gallery.com or call 883-3830 between 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday or 1-5 p.m. on Sunday.

Invitation To All Artists

On Saturday, Oct. 15 a "Clothesline Art Show" will be held at the Land of Waterfalls Art Gallery. The gallery is offering use of this space and will provide advertising and a food vendor. Grammy's will have sandwiches, chips and drinks for a fee.

Space is limited to the first 24 who sign up and pay $15 per space. The show is held rain or shine and there are no refunds. Participants are to provide their own table, tent and chair.

For more information, call 885-2103.

Around The House

Local resident Jim Dunlap answered my cry for help last week with my miter saw blade. He seemed confident at first and then the saw fought back. It turned out that the nut turned backward. The "righty tighty - lefty loosey" saying went out the window and became righty loosey. The saw finally succumbed to Jim's attack while his wife, Jean, and I looked on showering him with offers of assistance and advice, which he politely endured. Thanks to Jim, the saw now has its new blade. I can now continue working on the small table for a friend.

I have never had curtains on my living room windows as long as I have lived here because I didn't want to obscure my views of the forest. However, I am growing bored with my grey, tan, brown and black color scheme and feel the need to brighten up the room somehow. I'm thinking sage or lime green sheers to frame the windows but will have to ponder that for awhile yet.

My sister is coming for a visit from Florida Oct. 5-22. Every time she visits we have to do something adventurous. I guess it's our way of fighting off old age. Last year it was zip lining. I suggested skydiving this time, but she wasn't keen on that. So I guess we will just have to go on a photo taking expedition. We both belong to camera clubs, so that inspires us to be ever vigil for photo ops. The fall color should be glorious by then too.

While here she will also treat my church congregation, (UUTC) to a solo on Oct. 16. She is lead soloist at her church in Clearwater, Fla.

My cat, Farley Boy, has a new interest. I have a claw foot tub and while I am in the shower he makes circles around the rim. So far he has only fallen in once. A cat falling in water is "faster 'n spit on a griddle," so he wasted no time getting out of there. News contributions must be received by Monday evening for inclusion in the Thursday edition of The Transylvania Times. Send news to me 877-5407 or email cedarmountain-news@hotmail.com. You may also call Christine Pace at 885-2103 or email her at chris_p_artist@yahoo.com.

Local Restaurant Growing Its Roots

The Square Root has been named 2011's Best Restaurant in Brevard by Mountain Xpress's annual "Best of: WNC" competition.

Since executive chef and owner Adam Wilson purchased the restaurant less than two years ago, The Square Root has received the award twice in a row for first place restaurant in Brevard in both 2010 and 2011. The casual atmosphere, thoughtful cuisine, and innovative approach all contribute to the downtown restaurant's quickly growing regional success and recognition.

Recently, The Square Root released its new fall menu with innovative and comforting seasonal dishes, such as an eggplant club with Portobello mushrooms, pesto, and Feta on its lunch menu, and items like the pan seared Snapper over Jalapeno Gouda grits and Coriander encrusted Hanger steak served with a roasted potato medley on the dinner menu. It proudly offers all-natural Everett's Farm beef and other local favorites, such as half-priced wine bottles on Mondays and Tuesdays and trivia on Thursday nights.

Open every day, the Square Root serves lunch, dinner, and a Sunday brunch. Additionally the restaurant is available for catering, in-house parties, and special events, such as live music and wine dinners. For more information, visit www.squarerootrestaurant.com, or call (828) 884-6171.

Transylvania History Tinsley House On Depot Street

The new dwelling house of Mr. Branch Tinsley on Depot Street is nearing completion under the direction of Mr. J.V. Allen. The building attracts a good deal of attention from passers-by on account of its promise of being one of the neatest and prettiest cottages in town. It is a brick bungalow with roof of Spanish tiles and with large square brick pillars on the veranda. The brick work is in rustic style – dark colored mortar grooved between the bricks. It will add much to the appearance of Depot Street.
